

Next Phase of Housing Builds

Coming January 2026

BNA Housing is excited to announce that the next phase of new housing builds is on the horizon! The process is set to officially begin in January 2026.

As part of our improved approach, members will be invited to participate in the design process, especially during the finishing stages of construction. This involvement ensures that homes reflect the needs and preferences of future residents while helping to:

- ✓ Keep the project on track and within budget
- ✓ Support more efficient internal planning
- ✓ Reduce administrative steps

By working together, we aim to build homes that truly serve our community—while maintaining accountability and progress throughout the development.

Stay tuned for more details in upcoming newsletters and announcements from the Housing Department.
